AUXILIARY

RITUAL

RITUAL of the MARINE CORPS LEAGUE AUXILIARY

It was the purpose of the Ritual Committee in compiling this book to give to the membership of the Marine Corps League Auxiliary proper procedure for the opening and closing of meetings; conduct of initiations and installations, as well as funeral and memorial ceremonies befitting our departed members and Marines.

Introduced at the National Staff Meeting, Arlington, Virginia, February 18, 1984, this Ritual was adopted by a unanimous vote of the National Staff.

Officers and members are asked to study their parts carefully so that when a ceremony is to be conducted it will be with the dignity befitting the Marine Corps League Auxiliary.

The Ritual, in compliance with our Bylaws and Administrative Procedures, has been updated over the years. This current copy was submitted and approved at National Convention, Charleston, West Virginia, August 2014.

MANUAL OF INSTRUCTIONS

“HOW TO RESPECT AND DISPLAY OUR FLAG”

On August 7, 1976, President Gerald Ford signed Public Law 94-344 making the new flag code official. Changes in that law allow the flag to be displayed on a twenty-four (24) hour basis provided an all-weather flag is displayed and properly illuminated during the hours of darkness. How to place the flag in relation to an audience is clarified. The code specifies it should hold the position of superior prominence in advance of the audience and in the position of honor at the clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. This rule applies regardless of whether it is on a platform or at floor level.

NOTE: This is in accordance with the national flag code.

SALUTE

- (a) Raise the right hand until tip of forefinger touches the lower part of forehead above the right eye, thumb and fingers extended and joined, arm and elbow in line with shoulder, hand and wrist straight, drop the arm quickly to the side in a snappy military salute.
- (b) Heart Salute – Raise right hand, place flat over heart, fingers together; drop quickly as above.
- (c) During the ceremony of hoisting and lowering the Flag or when the Flag is passing in parade or review or when Colors are posted or retired at assemblies, those present in Auxiliary uniforms shall render the military salute as stated in (a).
- (d) Members who are not in Auxiliary uniform shall use the heart salute (b).
- (e) Members in Auxiliary caps with a MCLA logo, collared shirt and nice slacks or skirt are now considered in full uniform and use (a).

- (f) The Auxiliary Flag Bearers while holding the Flags, or the Chaplain while attending at the Altar, never salute.

INITIATION

Section 2

PRESIDENT: “Captain of the Guard.” (Captain of the Guard rises, salutes.)

PRESIDENT: “Retire to the ante room and ascertain if there are any candidates for membership in waiting.” (Captain of the Guard returns, salutes, and states: “Madam President, I find the following applicant(s).” (Gives names)

PRESIDENT: “Treasurer, have these applicants met with requirements of your office?”

TREASURER: “They have.”

PRESIDENT: “Captain of the Guard, you will retire and escort the candidates to the Altar.” (She does so)

CAPTAIN OF THE GUARD: (saluting) “Madam President, before this Altar are duly qualified candidates who seek membership in this Auxiliary.”

PRESIDENT: “Candidates, there have been Marines in the history of this country since Colonial Days. Their glory and achievements read like a storybook. They have been, and always will be an inspiration to all Americans who strive to live up to the ideals for which these men have lived and died. Belonging to these men of the Marine Corps have been women, attached to them by blood and family ties, who have taken their places beside these Marines in life and have fitted themselves, in their own ways, to be worthy of association with the Marine Corps. They stand for the best in womanhood. Not all women have the privilege of serving in time of war on the battlefield, but many have served their country well, giving the best in womanhood, wifehood and motherhood, caring for the home, the sick and wounded.

We, the Wives, Widows, Mothers, Stepmothers, Sisters, Daughters, Stepdaughters, Grandmothers, Granddaughters, Daughters-in-Law, Aunts, Nieces, Mothers-in-Law and Sisters-in-Law of honorably discharged Marines, FMF Corpsmen or FMF Navy Chaplains or of men now serving in the United States Marine Corps or as FMF Corpsmen or FMF Navy Chaplains, Women Marines and Associate Members fully aware of the patriotism of the American women in the past, have banded ourselves together to aid, in our woman’s way, the carrying out of traditions of the Marine Corps, and the ideals and purposes which it represents. The symbol of the Marine Corps is the Globe, Anchor and Eagle. The symbol of our Auxiliary is the same, with said symbol placed on a star whose rays shine out underneath. The motto of the Marine Corps is “Semper Fidelis”, which translated means “Always Faithful”. With these thoughts in mind, I now command you to the various officers who will portray to you some of the thoughts connected with the aforesaid symbol.” (When officers’ titles are called, they shall advance to the Altar, position themselves between the Altar and President’s station, facing the applicant. This is the only time officers are allowed to stand between the President’s station and the Altar.)

PRESIDENT: “The Senior Vice President.”

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT: “Candidates, you see before you the Globe (holds this in her hand) standing for the world. This part of the emblem tells you that under our flag, in all climes under all skies, in any part of the world where they are needed to protect this flag of ours or the interests of Americans, you have found and will always find the United States Marines. The winds of the world are in their faces and the salts of the seven seas. Land, Sea and Sky, these Marines of ours are there when and where needed.”

PRESIDENT: “The Junior Vice President.”

JUNIOR VICE PRESIDENT: “Here you find the anchor, which, in the Marine Corps emblem, with its entwining ropes typifies the association of the United States Navy. The anchor stands for security and steadfastness of the Marine Corps service on land and on sea, in time of emergencies or in trouble, and in peace.”

PRESIDENT: “The Judge Advocate”

JUDGE ADVOCATE: “You see at this station the bald eagle, which has long been the symbol of war and power, a true American bird, enfolding his wings of the world, typifying might, power and defiance, eager to fight for freedom, truly a symbol of the Marine Corps.”

PRESIDENT: “The Chaplain”

CHAPLAIN: “Here you see the star, which is the symbol of hope, so truly connected with our colors, royal blue and gold, which, in our Auxiliary, surrounds the Marine Corps emblem. The star to represent the heavenly guidance to our Marines, on which these lonely men and women on watch have gazed, in all climes, knowing that these same stars are shining down on loved ones back home.”

PRESIDENT: “The Historian”

HISTORIAN: “Before you, you see the Stars and Stripes (holds out a small American Flag), the symbol of Old Glory, for which these Marines have fought and died, the Flag of our Country, theirs, yours and mine, the Star Spangled Banner, always free – always standing for freedom and freedom’s rights. Long may she wave and always must each of us be grateful that we have the right to live under this flag, and please God, if necessary, to die for it. Let us live to be worthy citizens, recognizing that these stripes – red for heroes' blood, white for purity and blue for truth, honesty and sincerity – with the stars representing our States, mean that we are a free people, under God's grace, and dedicate our lives to these principles of truth, honor and sincerity – keeping ourselves "Always Faithful".

PRESIDENT: "In these ceremonies, we have attempted to show you the ideals for which we are pledged, and the achievements for which we must always be grateful. Hearing them, are you ready to take the oath of membership?" (Hearing an answer in the affirmative, the President raps once, members stand – then the President advances to the Altar and says, "Raise your right hand, place your left hand over your heart, and repeat after me, using your name where I use mine."

OBLIGATION: "I (name), in the presence of Almighty God and the members here assembled, do, of my own free will and accord, solemnly pledge, promise and swear, that I will comply with all the laws and regulations of this Auxiliary – and that I will ever be loyal thereto. I will never propose for membership anyone whom I know to be unworthy or ineligible. I will bear true allegiance to the government of the United States, and to our Flag and fidelity to its Constitution and Laws. All this I promise, on my honor, so help me God, and keep me faithful."

PRESIDENT: "Lower your hands." (President retires to her station)

PRESIDENT: "Chaplain, you will advance and give the prayer of initiation." (Chaplain advances to position between the President's station and Altar, facing the applicant(s).)

CHAPLAIN: "O Heavenly Father, we ask Thy blessing on these (or this), our new member(s). Grant that the ties between us may always be strong and true and that we always have a mutual, constant charity among ourselves. Grant us the grace to always practice a spirit of pure fellowship with one another. Grant also, O God, that they and we may be spared for a useful life, to the honor and glory of Thy Holy Name. Amen."

PRESIDENT: "We welcome you into the Auxiliary, as member(s) with membership rights and privileges as provided in the Bylaws. I hope that you will always find your association with us to be everything you had hoped for. Captain of the Guard, you will escort our new member(s) to the Secretary's station to sign the attendance book."

PRESIDENT: (Introduces the new member(s) to the Assembly): Captain of the Guard, you will escort the new member(s) to seats."

A parting is sad – ever sad. However, we have God’s assurance that we will all meet at a future day. Chaplain, will you recite the 23rd Psalm?”

CHAPLAIN: “The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures. He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He leads me in the paths of righteousness for his Name’s sake. Yea, tho I walk thru the Valley of the Shadow of Death, I will fear no evil – for Thou art with me – Thy rod and Thy Staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies. Thou anointest my head with oil – my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord.”

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT: “Our Father in heaven has seen fit to call our member to her final reward at this time. We must bow in submission to the Divine Will and learn to say with humble and contrite spirit, “Thy will be done.” Our CHAPLAIN: “Members and friends, as we stand in this room with all that is mortal of our member, let us remember her as she was when she took her place among us, and knowing that we have been better for having had her in our midst, let us bow our heads and ask our Divine Lord to have mercy on her soul, and from the depths of our sorrow and that of these loved ones left behind, let us find consolation in the knowledge that she has found Heavenly rest. Out of the depths we cry unto Thee, O Lord – let Thy Mercy shine upon us. We lift our eyes to Thee, knowing that Thou art the Resurrection and the Life. He that believeth in Thee, tho dead, yet shall he live. May we all meet at last before the Throne of Thy Grace in Heaven. This we ask in Thy Holy Name. Amen.”

POW/MIA Flag History and Code

Section 11

The importance of the POW/MIA flag lies in its continued visibility, a constant reminder of the plight of America’s POW/MIAs. Other than “Old Glory”, the POW/MIA flag is the only flag ever to fly over the White House, having been displayed in this place of honor on National Recognition Day since 1982. Passage by the 105th Congress of Section 1092 of the 1998 Defense Authorization Act requires that the POW/MIA flag fly six days each year: Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day, Flag Day, Independence Day, National POW/MIA Recognition Day and Veterans Day. It must be displayed at the White House, the U.S. Capitol, the Department of State, Defense and Veterans Affairs headquarters of the Selective Service System, the National Vietnam Veterans Memorial, the Korean War Veterans Memorial, major military installations as designated by the Secretary of Defense, all Federal cemeteries and all offices of the U. S. Postal Service.

The code specifies that the POW/MIA flag should hold the position of prominence in advance of the audience and in a position of honor at the speaker’s left as he faces the audience. The rule applies regardless of whether it is on a platform or at floor level.

Position of Marine Corps League Auxiliary Banner

Section 12

The Auxiliary Banner should hold a position of honor just left of the POW/MIA flag. This rule applies regardless of whether it is on a platform or at floor level.

THE MARINES' HYMN

From the Halls of Montezuma
To the Shores of Tripoli,
We fight our country's battles,
In the air, on land and sea.
First to fight for right and freedom,
And to keep our honor clean;
We are proud to claim the title of United States Marine.

Our Flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun;
We have fought in every clime and place
Where we could take a gun.
In the snow of far off northern lands
And in sunny tropic scenes,
You will find us always on the job
The United States Marines.

Here's health to you and to our Corps
Which we are proud to serve;
In many a strife we've fought for life
And never lost our nerve;
If the Army and the Navy
Ever look on Heaven's scenes,
They will find the streets are guarded by
The United States Marine
